The Office of Student Affairs Assessment strives to develop a culture wherein the learning, academic success, and personal growth and development of the student are enhanced through constructive examination of the programs developed by various Student Affairs offices.

Upcoming Conferences

Do you have an assessment or research project that you want to showcase at the 2014 Student Affairs Assessment and Research Conference? Are you interested in learning how to improve your assessment skills and exploring cutting edge research on the student experience? As student affairs professionals, we incorporate assessment and research into our practice in a variety of ways, whether our institutions are community colleges, four-year colleges, or large universities; whether we work with student organizations or student employees. This conference is suited to staff of all levels of experience, from beginners to experts in assessment and research, across a wide variety of departments. We are accepting proposals until April 11, 2014 and are looking for presentations that represent diverse perspectives of student affairs.
